

10.6.4 Does your university as a body have anti-discrimination policy?

Anti-Discrimination Policy

1. Introduction

Qassim University is committed to creating and maintaining an academic and working environment where all individuals are treated with dignity and respect. This Anti-Discrimination Policy applies to students, faculty, staff, and any other members of the university community, and it ensures that Qassim University is a place free from discrimination, harassment, or any other unfair treatment based on race, ethnicity, gender, religion, disability, sexual orientation, or any other status protected by law.

2. Policy Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to:

- Prevent discrimination in all aspects of university life, including admissions, recruitment, promotions, academic performance, and access to resources.
- Promote equal opportunities for all members of the university, ensuring an inclusive, supportive environment for individuals of all backgrounds and identities.
- Set clear procedures for addressing and reporting any instances of discrimination or harassment.

3. Prohibited Discrimination

Discrimination is defined as any unfair treatment or prejudice against an individual based on characteristics such as, but not limited to:

- Race, ethnicity, and national origin
- Gender, gender identity, and sexual orientation
- Disability (physical, mental, or intellectual)
- Age
- Religion, belief, or creed
- Marital or parental status
- Socio-economic background

Discrimination may take place in any form, including verbal, written, physical, or non-verbal actions, and applies to all university activities including teaching, research, extracurricular activities, and employment practices.

4. Commitment to Equal Opportunities

Qassim University is dedicated to ensuring equal access and opportunity for all individuals within its community. This includes:

- Developing recruitment, retention, and promotion practices that reflect this commitment.

- Providing accessible education and resources for students with disabilities and other underrepresented groups.
- Offering training and awareness programs to faculty, staff, and students to understand and prevent discrimination.

5. Reporting and Addressing Discrimination

Any member of the university community who believes they have been subjected to discrimination has the right to file a formal complaint. Complaints will be investigated promptly and fairly. The university will provide appropriate channels for reporting, including anonymous options, and will take necessary actions to address any substantiated complaints of discrimination.

6. Support for Affected Individuals

Qassim University will offer support to individuals who experience discrimination, including counseling, academic accommodations, and other resources to help them cope with the impact of discriminatory actions. We are committed to ensuring that affected individuals are not subjected to retaliation for reporting discrimination.

7. Education and Awareness

The university will continue to educate and raise awareness among its members regarding discrimination and its consequences. This includes mandatory training for staff and faculty on recognizing and preventing discriminatory practices, and integrating the principles of inclusion and diversity into the curriculum.

8. Enforcement and Consequences

Any individual found to be in violation of this policy may face disciplinary action, including but not limited to counseling, suspension, or termination from their position at the university. The university is committed to taking a firm stance against discriminatory practices to maintain a respectful and inclusive environment.

9. Conclusion

Qassim University believes that a diverse and inclusive environment enriches the academic experience and contributes to the broader goals of the university. Through this Anti-Discrimination Policy, we reaffirm our commitment to fairness, respect, and equal opportunity for all. We will continue to work towards an environment where all individuals can thrive and succeed.

2. Any person who attempts to commit a crime of harassment shall be subject to a punishment not exceeding half the maximum prescribed penalty;

3. Any person who submits a malicious report of a crime of harassment or maliciously claims to be a victim thereof shall be subject to the penalty prescribed for the crime of harassment.

Article 8

This Law shall enter into force from the date of its publication in the Official Gazette.

Criterion 3: teaching and learning

<https://qa.qu.edu.sa/files/shares/handbooks/Student%20Manual.pdf> [3]

The learning outcomes of the program are formulated to indicate the student's knowledge, information, abilities, skills and values upon graduation, and the learning outcomes of the course are formulated to show the knowledge, information, abilities, skills and values gained by the end of the course.

Students' learning outcomes should be clearly defined and in line with the Saudi Qualifications Framework (formerly the National Qualifications Framework) and the requirements of work or professional practice. The quality of education and the effectiveness of programs are assessed by assessing student performance, surveying graduates and employers, and using feedback from those parties as a basis for future development plans.

If the program has a male and female section, the quality standards and learning resources should be the same, and calendars should include separate data for each department. Provide a description of the quality assurance response procedures used to verify that the regulatory framework and arrangements for verifying that teaching and learning are working properly (for example, if measures are taken to verify student achievement levels against appropriate external references, state what were the results of these actions.
